The opening session, "You Have 10 Minutes to Convince Me...", will dynamically update attendees on the latest hot topics and showcase key developments from St Bartholomew's Hospital – from advances in interventional cardiology and regional anaesthesia for cardiac surgery, to innovative strategies in perioperative electrolyte management, pre-operative patient education, and achieving more precise mitral valve repairs through 3D echocardiography.

An interactive industry session supported by Nordic Pharma will follow, before Dr Robbie Lendrum delivers the closing lecture "The Ruptured Pipe: Aortic Physiology in Trauma". Dr Lendrum's extensive experience in the management of aortic injury has helped shape our understanding of the aorta as a dynamic organ – insights that will be of particular interest to ACTACC members involved in aortovascular and critical care practice.

The evening concludes with an open Q&A and discussion, providing a forum to exchange ideas and practical experiences with colleagues from across the field.
